

Counseling as a Related Service

The ARD committee must determine needed related services including individual and/or group counseling services. The need for related services counseling is determined through an evaluation process as recommended by the student's ARD committee.